DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-25, 41-57, and 64-80 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-60 of U.S. Patent No. 6,546,782. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the issued patent describes an apparatus that would be used to practice the method claimed in the present invention. Though the method is not explicitly disclosed in the claims themselves, the disclosure gives enough information that one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to devise the method for use of the device in view of the claims present. Therefore, it is the opinion of the examiner that if a specific and novel apparatus is claimed, such as in the above referenced patent, then the method of using such an apparatus for its intended purpose would also be disclosed as well.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 26-40, 58-63, and 81-86 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The applicant has made some improvements to the prior art device (I.e. the pop-off valve for the venting mechanism, and a device capable of withstanding higher maximum pressure tolerances) that are not disclosed nor deemed obvious in view of the prior art of record.
